

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Bright School is expanding!

At Bright School, Rwandan teachers model exemplary teaching and learning for Rwanda's youngest generation. Children arrive happy and eager to learn, and thrive where their natural curiosity is nurtured and play and projects are the cornerstones.

Our new two-storey building, with eight new classrooms.

Exciting times are ahead!

TEACH Rwanda has embarked on a major construction project. Funds are still needed to complete our new building.

Why build eight new classrooms?

Bright School is building eight new classrooms to meet community demand and serve more children and families.

- We will open two new nursery classes for the growing number of families asking for places in a playful learning environment that truly respects children.
- In nursery, we lay the foundations for all future learning, and families are eager for their children to join us.

- With more classrooms on our own land, we can move out of rented classrooms and go further towards sustainability.
- Our new classrooms will be larger, giving learners more room to take part in projects, work as teams and display their work.
- We will be ready for 2023, when we will need a second P4 class. We are looking to the future!
- More children will have the chance to join our inclusive community, where children are excited to arrive every day.
- And we can raise the salaries of our talented, loving teachers.

Why raise teacher salaries?

This is an exciting time for Rwandan educators. The government recently raised public school teacher salaries by as much as 88%, moving them closer to a living wage, and TEACH Rwanda fully supports this. To keep offering our dedicated, skilled Bright School teachers competitive salaries, we need to raise ours too.

- Better salaries tell teachers we value their advanced knowledge and skills.
- As a teaching and mentoring school, Bright School's staff are TEACH Rwanda's most valuable asset.
- More classrooms mean more fee-paying students, new teachers, more exploration and innovation, and even more chances to share evidence-based teaching as we move towards sustainability.

We rely on our nurturing teachers to model joyful, engaging, play and project-based learning.

We have already raised $40,000 for this new two-storey building. Can you help us find $20,000 more to finish our eight new classrooms and brighten the futures of more Rwandan children?

Construction under way on the Bright School campus.

Thanks to you, our donors, we already support 75 vulnerable children with Fund a Future scholarships, provide nutritious porridge to every child, give free school meals to our most vulnerable students and subsidise transport for children who live far from school.

If you want to make a difference in the lives of Rwandan children and help create meaningful, lasting change, please consider giving towards our new building.

With your help, more children can benefit from Bright School's transformative education.
